

Our congregation relies exclusively on the commitment and financial support of the membership to continue its various programs and rabbinic services. Our main revenue is from dues assessed and payable July 1 each year.

We offer free first year membership for new members. Second year membership assessments are prorated from the month membership commences to the following fiscal year (July 1). No one is denied membership because of an inability to pay assessed dues. A procedure is in place to process dues adjustments. Please contact the Temple office for details.

Please remember: Our by-laws require that all members pay their dues and fees before September 1st.
